This document describes the technical choices and motivation behind that

Java version:

This project is compiled with java 8

Maven version:

The project uses apache maven version 3.8.6

Map struct

This library allows to map objects regardless the complexity of overlap between classes and sub properties.

From technical aspects, it's very useful to lightweight the response to the client

From functional aspect, this approach hides any unnecessary data from exposure

Apache commons utils

The following utility library allows processing lists, dates and so more in order to facilitate development phase